

The shared layer learns chemistry relevant to both targets. Each head specialises. Training on experimental pKi rather than docking scores keeps the labels tied to biology.